

The Modesto Bee

© 2005 THE MODESTO BEE

MONDAY

FEBRUARY 21, 2005

PRICE 50¢

Work & Money

SMALL BUSINESS

Holy Cow! Extreme Pizza comes in Pandora's Box

What kind of pizza would be created by people who snowboard the most difficult peaks and color outside the lines? That's easy — Extreme Pizza.

And thanks to Inder Walia, there's now an Extreme Pizza outlet in Modesto. Walia opened the San Francisco-based gourmet pizza franchise at 1022 11th St. It's where folks looking for something extreme will find pizzas like the Boar'der (shredded pork marinated in a killer barbecue sauce, red onions, fresh cilantro, cheddar and mozzarella).

If Holy Cow, Pandora's Box, California Cactus or other extremely eclectic pizzas are a little too out there, Extreme lets customers create their own from a wide range of toppings. The menu also has calzones, salads and "monster subs."

Extreme Pizza has online ordering, take-and-bake options and even delivers — when people think outside the box, they can come up with some extremely good ideas. For more information, call 238-0466. ...

DAVID W. HILL
BUSINESS
BEAT

